(Description of Informaon sought (upto 500 characters)

Prayer or Relief Sought Prayers: 1) that the Honourable First Appellate Authority (FAA) be pleased to admit this appeal and inquire into the matters raised herein. 2) that the Honourable FAA be please direct the disclosure of all informaon sought in the instant RTI applicaon free of charge as is the right of this Appellant under Secon 7(6) of the RTI Act. Grounds: This Appellant is aggrieved by the decision of the CPIO for the reasons stated below: a) The CPIO has contended that all the informaon sought in the instant RTI applicaon is exempt from disclosure under Secon 8(1)(j) of the RTI Act as it is third party informaon and relates to the privacy of an individual. This Appellant believes that both contenons are without due applicaon of mind on the part of the said CPIO. b) First, Secon 8(1)(j) of the RTI Act exempts only such personal informaon which has no relaonship to any public acvity or public interest or where disclosure may cause unwarranted invasion of the privacy of an individual. The Embassy of India in Kuwait discloses most of the informaon sought in the instant RTI applicaon proacv ely on its website (see pages 3-6 in the aachment for a copy of the webpages containing similar informaon downloaded from its website). Clearly such a step would not have been taken if there were no public interest in such disclosure. The very acts of collection and display of such information by the Embassy of Kuwait are indicative of the very public nature of such activities. So the CPIO of this Embassy has erred in his interpretation of Section 8(1)(j) of the RTI Act.

c) Second, for the purpose of invoking the protection of Section 8(1)(j) of the RTI Act, the ground that the requested information relates to the privacy of an individual is not adequate. The test in Section 8(1)(j) is much stricter. Disclosure is not permissible only when it will cause unwarranted invasion of the privacy of the individual. Nothing in the decision of the CPIO indicates as to how this effect, namely, unwarranted invasion of the privacy of the deceased Indian Workers would be caused by disclosing the information requested in the instant RTI application.

d) Third, Section 8(1)(j) of the RTI Act gives effect to the fundamental right to privacy of an individual. This has been recognised by a 9-Judge Constitution Bench of the Supreme Court of India in August 2017. Fundamental rights by their very nature are available to individuals who are alive. This Appellant has sought information about Indian Workers who unfortunately died in the UAE. The CPIO cannot claim the application of the right to privacy for a deceased person. Therefore there is no valid basis to invoke any exemption under the RTI Act to reject the information that this Appellant has sought in the instant RTI application.

ORDER

An appeal under the RTI act was filed by Mr. Venkatesh Nayak on 14.09.2018 vide RTI appeal registration no. MEAAD/A/2018/60002. The appeal is for seeking complete information as requested earlier as per his RTI application No. MEAAD/R/2018/80012 dated 12.08.2018 asserting that the access to information was refused by CPIO. Under section 19(1) of the RTI Act 2005, an applicant can make appeal to the appeal authority if he is not satisfied with the response received.

2. Perused and analyzed the appeal application, comments of the CPIO and other information available on the file. The CPIO has responded to your said RTI application vide letter No. Abu/RTI/301/1/2018-80012 dated 19th August, 2018 and has remarked that "The information sought for is exempt from the disclosure under section 8(1) (j) of RTI Act 2005 as it is a third party information and relates to privacy of an individual".

3. The appellant has mentioned in his appeal that he is aggrieved with decision of 'Central Public Information Officer (CPIO)' as the information was not provided to him as per his RTI application & therefore he has filed his appeal against the decision of CPIO. However, on perusal of file, available records and comments of CPIO, it is established that the CPIO has duly replied to the appellant's RTI application vide letter No. Abu/RTI/301/1/2018-80012 dated 19th August, 2018 as per the provision of RTI Act.

4. I being the first appellant authority is satisfied with the decision of CPIO who has replied to your application that "The information sought for is exempt from the disclosure under section 8(1) (j) of RTI Act 2005 as it is a third party information and relates to privacy of an individual"

5. In view of the above, the appeal is disposed of accordingly as the information sought is exempt from the disclosure under section 8(1) (j) of RTI Act 2005 as it is a third party information and relates to privacy of an individual.

6. If you are aggrieved with the decision of FAA, you may prefer an appeal against the same to the Second Appellate Authority i.e Central Information Commission, CIC Bhawan, Baba Gangnath Marg, Munirka, New Delhi-110 067 under section 19(3) of the RTI Act, 2005 within 90 days of receipt of this reply.
